AMERICANS IN HUNLAND

Rest on Franco-Belgian Line—Reclaim Nearly Five Hundred Square Miles of French Territory— Hail Delivers.

Paris, Nov. 18. (10:30 a. m.),—German troops began evacuating the fortress of Metz today.

With the Americans Advancing Toward the Rhine, Nov. 18.—The Third Army resumed it advance into German territory at dawn today.

When the march began the left wing of the Americans rested on the Franco-Belgian frontier, while the right wing was near the German border in the Metz region.

The American troops had camped during the night an average of nearly ten miles within the former German positions, along the general line of Fecuviez, Sorbent, Gourgincourt and Mars-la-Tour—a front of about fifty miles.

In their first day's march the Americans reclaimed nearly 500 square miles of French territory. Most of the towns, which had been badly shot up, were deserted by the Germans only a few hours before the Americans reached them. The Germans had not blown up any of the bridges or roads.

The few inhabitants hailed the Americans with delight. The advance proceeded smoothly, averaging three miles an hour, Signal corps men were kept busy bringing up new wires. The troops were fully equipped, wore their tin hats, and carried their gas masks.

EXPRESS APPRECIATION

Board of Managers of Alexandria Hospital Thank all Who Assisted During "Flu" Epidemic.

The Board of Managers of the Alexandria Hospital wish to take this method of thanking all those who so kindly and faithfully helped at the hospital during the recent terrible "flu" epidemic here.

Without their assistance the hospital would have been compelled to close, for some ladies came every day to bath the babies, some kept charge of wards, some helped in the office and two Seminary students worked in the kitchen.

Meanwhile the ill nurses and servants recovered from the influenza and, as the suprintendent gratefully said, "We have so much to be thankful for and none of our nurses died."

Only purely unselfiish love could have done such work, and it is beyond words to express due appreciation for such noble, self-sacrificing service.

SAVED GEN. FOCH'S LIFE

Richmond, Va., Nov. 18.—How a Richmond physician saved the life of Field Marshal Ferdinand Foch, allied generalissimo, became known today when it was learned Dr. Robert C. Bryan rendered emergency treatment to the great soldier.

One day in June, 1916, while the allies were planning the battle of the Somme, and the French were making their last great stand at Verdun, Dr. Bryan received an emergency call at his office in the American hospital at Juilly, near Paris. He was told that a distinguished French general, whose name was not given, had been seriously injured in his automobile at Plessis Belleville, and was thought to be dying.

After treating the injured man Dr. Bryan motored back to Juilly satisfied that Foch was dying, and the next morning went over to Meaux again in order to express his regrets. Inquiring at the hospital for Gen. Foch, he was told by the head surgeon: "The general has gone."

"Yes," said Dr. Bryan in reply, "gone beyond."

"Oh, no," the Frenchman protested, "gone back to the front. The attention given him was in time to save him"

WELD SEVEN WAR WORK AGENCIES INTO RELIEF ARMY

Great Organizations Which Are Helping to Keep Up the Morale of Fighting Millions Unite in Campaign for $170,500,000.

With millions of American men on war fronts, in training camps and on the seas and with thousands of American women on foreign soil, all engaged in the stupendous task of making the world safe for democracy, a great duty devolves upon those who remain in the United States,—the duty of sending Home to those who have put Home behind them for the period of the war. The agencies through which this can be accomplished are joined in the United War Work Campaign.

From being given the cigarette or chocolate bar, with which he stays his hunger in the fury of battle, to the theatrical entertainment or the athletic games, which relax him into normal comfort after weeks of terrific combat, the American fighter is dependent upon the continued efforts of the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the National Catholic War Council and K. of C., the War Camp Community Service, the Jewish Welfare Board, the American Library Association and the Salvation Army. To carry on this work the combined welfare organizations are seeking a fund of $170,500,000.

The Y. M. C. A. provides 538 huts in American training camps and more than 800 in the war zone as centres which the fighters can use as clubs, schools, theatres, stores, churches, libraries and writing rooms. More than 7,000 men and women had been sent oversens or approved for overseas work by early autumn and 3,822 were serving in American camps at home.

Y. M. C. A. huts are the canteens of the American Expeditionary Force and are the theatres where the American entertainers, sent over by the "Y," appear. Noted American public men and clergymen speak in the huts. Classes are conducted there. Millions of letters are written there on paper provided free by the "Y." Physical directors of the "Y" teach and spread mass athletics, using material furnished free by the organization.

The Y. W. C. A. does similar work for the thousands of American women in war work overseas—signal corps elephone operators, nurses and French munition workers. It provides cafeterias, rest and recreation centres, entertainment and reading for these women and girls.

The Y. W. C. A.'s outstanding contribution to soldier welfare work in training camps was the establishment of Hostess Houses, where the soldier or sailor may receive his mother, wife, sister or sweetheart in the surroundings, and atmosphere of the best homes.

The National Catholic War Council co-ordinates all Catholic welfare work in support of the government and through the K. of C. provides clubhouses for our fighters in all American training camps, as well as having seventy-five centres in France and three in England. In their huts the K. of C. provides entertainment, movies, boxing bouts, educational work, religious services, free stationery, reading matter and writing rooms. In France their rolling canteen accompanies the American army, their secretaries march with the troops, giving away cigarettes, cookies, chocolates, soap and towels.

The K. of C. had 300 workers in France at the beginning of autumn, with 450 more passed by the government and 200 others signed up. At the same date they had 488 secretaries in American training camps, 150 buildings, fifty-six more in the course of erection and contracts let for fifty more.

War Camp Community Service functions exclusively in America, its special mission being to "surround the camps with hospitality." In place of leaving the soldier or sailor to the promiscuous companions and diversions formerly his lot, the organization obtains for him the best to be had in communities adjoining camps or through which he passes.

W. C. C. S. obtains for him invitations to dine, bathe or spend the day in the best homes. It introduces him to the best women and girls at social gatherings, church entertainments, theatre parties. It arouses communities to provide concerts, athletic contests and other wholesome diversions for the soldier, and to drive out or discourage the vicious elements which have been historic camp followers.

The Jewish Welfare Board is correlating the strength and purposes of 100,000 Jewish soldiers, sailors and marines with that of the Gentile soldiers. The board teaches the English language, American civics and ideals to thousands of young Jewish men who were inducted into service after only a few years residence in this country. While safeguarding his religious rites, the board assists in the process of welding the Jewish soldier into the solid American unit and in bridging over the differences between him and the others.

The American Library Association is providing reading matter for every American soldier, sailor, marine and prisoner of war. In addition to gathering and forwarding three million

SEE HOPE FOR ACTION

Visit of Virginia Debt Commission May Result in Progress Toward Settlement.

Richmond, Nov. 18.—About the Capitol the hope was expressed that the present visit of the Debt Commission to the National Capital would result in something tangible as to the outcome of the celebrated case between the States of Virginia and West Virginia. The Supreme Court of the United States, when last passing on the case, said that the court could always find a way to enforce its judgments. Nevertheless the proceeding has not yet yielded any financial returns.

There is a popular impression to the effect that the Commonwealth of Virginia will receive a large sum of money from the litigation. As a matter of fact, those who have followed the case closely are of the opinion that this State will receive next to nothing and that if the judgment is collected the funds will go to the holders of what are known as West Virginia certificates.

The Supreme Court of the U. S. gave the State of Virginia a judgment against the state of West Virginia for $4,215,622.28 principal and $8,176,307.22 interest. It further provided that interest at the rate of 5 per cent, per annum should run on both principal and interest. This additional 5 per cent has been running for several years and the total amount due is becoming a colossal sum. West Virginia is resting on her oars and apparently is making no attempt to satisfy the judgment.

But notwithtanding the way the record stands, the Commonwealth of Virginia is not to suddenly become rich, for it is not suing in its own behalf, but for the owenrs of the West Virginia certificates.

About 1871 the debt of this state was roughly estimated at $45,000,000. It was figured that $30,000,000 of this was due by the present state of West Virginia. Upon this basis a compromise was made with the creditors of the State, bonds were issued for the $30,000,000 and certificates were issued for West Virginia's part of the indebtedness.

In the Supreme Court suit West Virginia was allowed offsets amounting to considerable sums and there were other details too numerous to mention. Virginia herself owned and still owns about $2,375,000 of the West Virginia certificates and it was hoped that this Commonwealth would benefit at least to that extent. The chances as to this are however, very slight owing to the fact that the court adopted a master's report which eliminated this claim.

In connection with the last mentioned matter it may be remembered that the report of the Second Auditor of Virginia says that the Commonwealth holds $2,026,400.40 of West Virginia certificates belonging to the sinking fund and $210,022.62 of the same belonging to the literary fund, "which the Supreme Court of the United States appears to have declared uncollectable."

ANTI-JEW RIOTS

London, Nov. 18.—If the reported anti-Semitic program in Warsaw is confirmed the Government will view it as encouragement to the forces of disorder and violence which are threatening the population between the Rhine and the Volga.

The Allies are ready to lend their whole resources for restoration of the economic bases of civilized life in those countries desiring order and civilization. But if the peoples of the Central Empires are disorderly, it was intimated today, the Allies will only be able to wait for restoration of conditions leading to the processes of peace.

WAR ON KINGS AND QUEENS

It is sundown for the sultan,
It is darkness for the king;
It is shadows for the tyrant—
Let the glad hosannas ring!
It is morning after midnight,
And upon the glowing hill
Peace is rising like a splendor
That no hate can ever kill.

Tihs is all very well, in poetry, but what are the facts confronting the world at present?

The democratic earthquake in Europe is making the thrones of even enlightened monarchs tremble. Socialism is presenting its demand in Belgium, and in Holland Wilhelmina is facing a crisis. And royalty is beginning to grow a little nervous in every other country in which it still survives.

Wilhelmina has been an excellent queen, but that will not save her, if the Socialists have their way. Her former popularity may count for little against the enthusiasm of the antimonarchical crusaders. A good king or a good queen in their view is no better than a bad one.

Kings and queens after a while may be forbidden even on the stage. Heaven appears to be the only place at present where royalty is not in danger.

The former Emperor of Germany has started a conflagration which is liable to spread as a prairie fire. He champicned the Bolsheviki in Russia which swept all authority aside and turned Muscovy into a land of horrors.

This fire has long since spread to the Fatherland, where thrones are falling as tenpins. Bolsehvism has crossed the Dutch border and is now in coservative old Holland where Queen Wilhemnina is being rendered anxious.

The termination of the war has given boldness to Socialists who are causing unrest in every country in the world.

BISMARCK AND THE KAISER

Bismarck has his revenge. He, and he alone, was the architect of the German Empire. He left it much the strongest State in Europe. William II, at the age at which it is common for a man to know everything, dismissed him because it was not his temperament to defer to or consult with anybody, and Bismarck was not disposed to take an humbler position with the grandson than he had occupied with the "old gentleman," by which term he was wont to refer to the very honorable, though not very brilliant, monarch whom he had elevated from King of Prussia to German Emperor.

Under Bismarck Germany was a "satiated State," under William II it was literally insatiable. Colonial expansion and a big navy were the dearest objects to him after his army. England was to be distanced if possible, and if not, crushed. He despised its power.

And now after having wrecked the magnificent empire which Otto von Bismarck had built up for the Hohenzollern family the ex-Kaiser is a fugitive from justice in a neighboring country.

In spite of Bismarck's joke that if an English army should land on the coast of Germany he would notify the police and have it arrested, he had a wholesome respect for the power of the British Empire, and he was anxious to keep on perfectly good terms with it.

PERSONA NON GRATA

As a contemporary well says, if the Germans realized the feeling against them in this country, they would scarcely have proposed sending a food commission here. They don't seem to understand the horror and detestation which Germany's acts have aroused in the United States, and they do not seem to appreciate their own relation to these acts or their own responsibility for them. They seem to think they have purged themselves of all offense by rising against their rulers, when their rulers could no longer feed them with the pleasant fruits of victory. What they need to understand is that we regard them as accomplices, in large measure, in all that autocracy has done. At all events, we have no desire for their society.

Let them stay where they belong. We do not want them over here now or for many years to come. Instead of permittin ga German commission to come to the United States, our immigration laws should be so amended as to exclude Germans for the next quarter of a century at least.

FRANCE RECLAIMS HER OWN

During the second year of the late war it was suggested that France should be given back Alsace-Lorraine, fliched from her in 1871 by Bismarck. The ex-kaiser, then in the power of his might, replied as follows to the suggestion: "Let France come and take them."

That is what France is now doing. She has come to take her own.

Crossing the Alsatian frontier, troops of Pershing's army have begun the movement on Metz and Strassburg. The city of the famous clock is about to be bedecked with French flags. Plans are under way for an entry into these cities Sunday that is destined to become historic. Colmar also will be formally occupied.

Details are being mapped out for the future administration of the "lost provinces." The Americans are expected to cross the border into Lorraine hourly.

Marshal Foch and Poincare will officiate at the solemn re-ocupation ceremonies now being arranged.

Marshal Foch will formally take possession of Metz and Strasburg in the name of the allies. Premier Clemenceau also will be present at the ceremonies as well as other ministers.

ELKS DEDICATE HOSPITAL

Institution for Disabled Soldiers is Turned Over to Government.

Boston, Nov. 18.—The Elks' reconstruction hospital in this city for the treatment of wounded and disfigured soldiers was dedicated and turned over to the government Saturday with impressive exercises. Addresses were made by Bruce A. Campbell, of St. Louis, grand exalted ruler; John K. Tener, chairman of the Elks' war relief commission; Governor McCall and Major General William Crozier, commander of the Department of the Northeast.

The hospital is one of several erected in various parts of the country by the Order of Elks, for which a fund of $1,000,000 was raised.

Trimmings for Winter.

That time of year has arrived when one is becoming just a little tired of dresses, coats and suits purchased early in the season.

The style is good and the material not worn—you simply are "tired looking at" the garment.

Anything that will change it a bit will make it more welcome to you and also more pleasing to friends.

Fringe is one of the trimmings we have to suggest for making your old garment look different. But it is rather limited in its use.

Fur is probably the most universal trimming for all. It is equally attractive on coats, suits or dresses.

We've plenty of fur in widths from 2 to 8 inches, in black, brown and gray coney, skunk and seal. Price, per yard, $1.75 to $20.00.
First Floor—Lansburgh & Bro.

WHERE IS MY BOY TONIGHT?

That is the question that is searing more than two million mother-hearts in America

IT WAS AT A LITTLE HOSPITAL IN FRANCE. One of the workers---Young Men's Christian Association, Knights of Columbus---what does it matter, they are all the same---was one day passing by and suddenly thought of a Scotch boy with whom he had been talking before that same afternoon. He entered the tent, expecting to find the boy marked that night for transfer home. But when he approached he saw that something had happened, something had intervened between all hopes and plans. The wounded lad's eyes were bright with fever and he beckoned to the man for mercy. "Come here, mummy," he said; "put your arms under my head and I think I will sleep tonight."

"And then," says the worker, "I saw that he had become a child again. 'Hear me say my prayers now, mummy,' he said, and beginning 'Our Father which art in Heaven,' he felt his way through it like a blind man in a narrow alley, till he got tangled in forgetfulness and stumbled for a moment into silence. Then looking up at me, he said, 'Kiss me, mummy,' and I kissed him and tucked him in as his mother used to do when he was a boy at home, and by way of sleep that night he found a dawn beyond our daybreak."

Your son, perhaps, is there—that boy you love so well. He may be wounded. God forbid: But if he is, an arm will pillow his head tonight and fatherly hands will be on his and kindly lips will speak those words that you would speak if you were by his side. It will be the hands and lips of one of that band of consecrated men, one of those big hearted brothers, who welcomed your boy that home sick day he came to camp, who sailed with him on the transport, who went, perhaps, through the hell-fire of shot and bursting shell to save him when he was wounded, who brought food and comfort and friendliness and home to him on the very fire-step of the front-line trench.

These big brothers are calling to you from France for help. Nay, they are calling to you from every cantonment, from every camp, here and abroad, where our soldier lads are gathered together. "Fathers and Mothers of America" they say, "your boys are in our hands. We want to send them back to you clean, strong, brave, VICTORIOUS. God willing, these shall not be wasted months or years. We are working and praying so that even while he fights your son will grow in stature—body, mind, and soul. MONEY IS NEEDED—A VERITABLE TIDE OF GOLD—TO MAKE THIS POSSIBLE. FATHERS AND MOTHERS OF AMERICA, GIVE TO YOUR OWN SONS!"

THE PASSIONATE APPEAL FOR $170,500,000 IS BEING MADE BY THESE SEVEN SOCIETIES, THESE GREAT BROTHERHOODS THAT STAND BEHIND OUR ARMIES—VIRGINIA'S QUOTA IS $1,500,000—THE YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION. THE YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION, THE NATIONAL CATHOLIC WAR COUNCIL, THE JEWISH WELFARE BOARD, THE SALVATION ARMY, THE AMERICAN LIBRARY ASSOCIATION, THE WAR CAMP COMMUNITY SERVICE. No, there is no need for you to be told why you should give. YOUR OWN HEART IS CRYING OUT TO YOU NOW TO GIVE. GIVE MONEY? WHY, YOU WOULD GIVE YOUR RIGHT HAND YOU WOULD GIVE YOUR BEATING HEART ITSELF, IF IT WOULD BRING YOUR BOY COMFORT AND HAPPINESS IN HIS LIFE OR PEACE IN HIS DEATH.

Little enough do we know what these lads are enduring without complaint; little enough do we know how they die without bitterness, thinking never of self, but of suffering chums and loved ones at home, humble in their self-sacrifice. Little can we hope to imagine what "Y" or "K. of C." "Jewish Welfare Board" or "Salvation Army," men and huts mean to them, we who are safe and warm and with friends.

"Sometimes," (said one of these workers) "I sit all day beside a man, feeling my heart just break listening to him as he speaks words of love and messages of deepest tenderness in his dying fever to those far off across the seas whom he thinks to be right up near his stretcher bed. And then a man who has been blinded wants me to hold one of his hands; another poor lad sobs out his life, his head in my arm, crying for his mother as you and I cried for ours when we were lonely; and I guide the hands of another—a big boy, torn and shattered by a shell, as he writes goodby to his sweetheart and tells her God will bring them together again."

What do we know of such things as these—we in America? What do we know of the horror of the rain-soaked trench at night, with the shells flying overhead like bats out of hell? What do we know of the gnawing cramp of hunger or the hideous wrench of agonizing wound? Our eyes have not seen the human wreckage of the battlefield, our ears have not heard its awful cries. Our lips have not yet touched the cup. Our meatless days, our wheatless meals, our good ladies knitting—would we dare look on one poor crumpled form in Flanders field and call these things "giving?" NOT IF WE ARE MEN. If our fields had been plowed by murderous guns, if our cities had been looted, razed, and ruined, if our men had been crucified and shot, if our mothers, wives, and daughters had been dragged like the women of Lille by gray-clad demons to slavery, then we would be able to speak a language of sacrifice we do not yet know or even dimly understand. Then would we have learned something of the courage of Christ when he refused the stupefying drink upon the cross, and faced suffering—yes, welcomed and greeted it, as a very end and aim of life.

It is a splendid thing to give billions to war that war may cease. It is thrice to give to these magnificient and merciful organizations that have been formed not to take life, but to save it ,not to give wounds, but to bind them up, not to spread disaster and blasting death, but to dispense good cheer and kindliness and knowledge and comfort and brotherly love among our own boys.

It is a privilege to give to this great cause when for the first time in history, Jew, Protestant, and Catholic are sinking the bitter differences of centuries, when prejudices are sweeping out like ash in furnace-winds, and creeds are commingling in the final gold of truth. This cause is indeed, HIS cause, and each dollar we give is given into the very treasury of Heaven.

If for a moment, far from peril and sudden death of the trenches, we are tempted to shrink from new sacrifices, we have but to look around us to remember our duty, for already in our streets the crutch tells its simple story and carries its mute appeal to the heart; already our consciences are challenged by the eloquence of the empty sleeve; already we are faced by the outward evidences of these our boys who have laid not merely money, but life and body themselves, upon the altar.

FATHERS AND MOTHERS OF AMERICA! YOUR SONS NEED WARM HEARTS TO FATHER THEM AND MINISTERING HANDS TO SUSTAIN THEM; THEY NEED EVERY COMFORT, EVERY CARE, EVERY PROTECTION THAT MONEY CAN BUY AND LOVE PROVIDE. WERE FINAL PEACE PAPER SIGNED TOMORROW THEY WOULD NEED THEM EVEN MORE, IF POSSIBLE, DURING THE TRYING MONTHS WHEN THEY ARE WAITING TO RETURN TO YOU. IT IS YOUR OWN FLESH AND BLOOD THAT IS CALLING YOU. AS YOU CHERISH AMERICAN MANHOOD, AND IN THE NAME OF GOD WHO GIVES VICTORY TO THE RIGHT, ANSWER THE CALL.

Litery Digest November 9th.

Armistice papers have been signed; the boys have stopped fighting; the excitement that kept them keyed up has ceased; reaction has set in; idle time is on their hands. NOW, more than ever before, these boys need the attention, guidance, advice, pleasant surroundings of the huts and the workers to keep their minds and bodies wholesomely occupied.

NEWS OF THE DAY

The Echo de Paris says Mrs. Wilson will come to Europe with President Wilson.

British prisoners of war returning from Germany by way of Holland report there is much bitterness in the Netherlands against the former Kaiser's presence there.

French troops Saturday entered Colmar and Mulhausen, two of Germany's great fortresses in Alsace. There was no trouble in either place.

Anarchy has, it is said, broken out among the retiring German troops. The Swiss borders have been closed. Sixty German soldiers have been killed at Brussels, according to the paper's Antwerp correspondent.

"Citizen Hindenburg" is the way Field Marshal von Hindenburg, commander of all German armies, is now signing his orders. The term "citizen" as a prefix to a name was first thus used in the French Revolution. It is meant as a symbol of the equality of all men.

Arrived at an uncommonly opportune time, the official mission of French scholars to the United States, whose theme is the "binding of France and America more closely together in intellectual sympathy," will this afternoon be received at the White House by President Wilson, who has invited the mission to a luncheon tomorrow afternoon.

King Friederich III of Saxony, who held out to the last against the nation-wide clamor in Germany for the elimination of all kings and princes, has abdicated, it is officially announced from Berlin. This makes the fourth of the "kingdom's" "kings" "kingless," Prussia, Bavaria and Wurttemberg having been proclaimed republics in the earlier phase of the revolution.

There will be no victory parade or celebration in the National Capital until after peace has actually been declared. This was decided at a meeting of the chairmen of the committees named by Col. Robert N. Harper, head of a special committee, and prominent citizens at the Willard last week Prematurity of any demonstration at present was the cause for the abandonment of plans for the proposed event.

Marshal Foch has sent a new protest to the German high command against the manner in which the Germans, in the course of their evacuation of France and Belgium, leave behind great quantities of war material. The allied generalissimo in his message, sent by wireless, asks for a concentration and methodical delivery of the materials to the allies.
